Three hundred students and ex-students of the Vulcan High School and invited guests gathered at the Odd Fellows' hall last Friday evening, May 2, for the annual high school banquet and dance sponsored by the Students' Union.

Shower Honors Recent Bride

Complimenting Mrs. Charles Robinson, nee Miss Lois Graham, whose marriage took place recently in Calgary, the ladies of the United Church entertained a large number of her friends in the Sunday School room, Saturday afternoon. An interesting program was arranged by Mrs. Nelson Jamison and Mrs. Lloyd Jamison and included sing-songs, games and contests.

At the conclusion of a very happy afternoon the guest of honor very graciously thanked her many friends for their kind thoughtfulness and the many presents.

Bottled Gas New Heat Scheme

There has been quite an amount of talk in this district about bottled gas as having great heating possibilities. Those who have seen it in operation across the line are the greatest enthusiasts.

It is liquid petroleum gas processed in Wyoming and available for shipment to Canada in huge tanks.

The first storage plant is being installed at Cardston, with others in view at Cardston, Taber, Raymond, Staveland, Vulcan and several other points.

The gas is shipped in liquid form and does not take gaseous form till released from the tank. It is used in practically the same way as natural gas, coming in the form of butane and propane. The former is used in warm weather because its boiling point is above zero, while propane boils at 43 below zero and is suitable for winter use.

A firm known as Alberta Gas Services Ltd. is launching this project with companies already formed in nine communities. Others are waiting for incorporation.

Cardston will offer the first example, as it is anticipated that consumers in that area will be getting compressed gas in their homes within a month.

Each of the storage plants completed will have storage capacity of 30,000 gallons, adequate for 2000 consumers. If there are 20 plants installed these will serve 40,000 customers. Each farm will have tanks of capacity of 115 to 1000 gallons and the cost is expected to be much less than that purchased by cylinders. Appliances for users of liquid petroleum gas are specially made for the purpose.

Daylight saving crept into the local scheme of things with very little disruption.

Lions Will Sponsor Junior Calf Club in This District

Lions Club Sponsoring Body; Hear Interesting Address By District Agriculturist

At the regular Lions Club dinner meeting Monday of this week, the members were addressed by Peter Jamieson, of Claresholm, District Agriculturist. The local Lions Club has decided to sponsor the formation of a Junior Calf Club in this district and Mr. Jamieson's remarks, after he had explained the work of a District Agriculturist, dealt with this subject.

Explaining the provincial government setup of which district agriculturists are a part, Mr. Jamieson said that the Department of Agriculture, under the deputy minister, is divided into branches, with a commissioner at the head of each branch, which is again divided into an administrative branch and an extension branch. The function of the extension branch is to make available to the people the services and information that that branch can give and to tell the people how to take advantage of these services.

At each district agriculturist's office bulletins and literature from both the Dominion and Provincial governments and the results of researches conducted by the University of Alberta and various institutes are available. These offices also serve as a clearing house for different ideas on agriculture and the advice and help of the trained agriculturists are available to all.

One other important phase is the district agriculturist's work with the young people. The department has realized the importance of junior activities and youth training and has a special office to help and advise the young people of the province in forming and operating various clubs. The speaker mentioned swine, beef, poultry, dairy, oat, wheat, barley, flax and forage crop clubs for boys and garden and home economic clubs for girls. This special office is headed by George Black. Such junior clubs, with their elections for officers, and encouragement of young sneakers, help train the young people of the district in community work and co-operative effort and from such clubs come the future leaders of the community.

Junior Beef Club

A junior beef club trains its members in many ways. The choosing of a calf, the use of farm feeds to advantage by fixing proper rations, the training in preparation for showing, the stock handling and marketing, are all activities of definite benefit.

The first necessity in starting a club is a progressive district. An active sponsoring body is needed. And there should be at least fifteen prospective members between the ages of 12 and 20. The club movement must come from the community, but the district agriculturist will help in every possible way and will assist in arranging inspection tours, etc., and the annual shows and sale.

Meetings are held at regular times throughout the season and attendance of the members at these meetings is very important. Calves can, if necessary, be bought through the provincial government, and prize money for judging, etc., is provided in equal amounts by the Dominion Government and the sponsoring body.

The sponsors appoint an advisory committee of three and a club leader but the club is operated by its own junior officers consisting of a president, vice-president and secretary. Any young people of this district interested in becoming members of a junior calf club are asked to hand in their names to L. F. Dawson, Vulcan.

A further step in immigration is being planned to admit refugee groups from Europe.

R.C.M.P. Films Shown To School Children

Sergeant Buchanan and Constable Mortimer of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police travelling film detachment, and Constable Jack Hurst of the R.C.M.P.'s Vulcan detachment, were hosts to the school children of Vulcan, Reid Hill, Kirkcaldy, Red Cross and Ensign last Thursday morning at the Vulcan theatre.

The first picture shown, "The Making of a Mountie," showed the training and instruction received by recruits at Regina and was of great interest to the youngsters. A second film, "The Voyage of the St. Roch," dealt with the 1941-42 voyage of the R.C.M.P. supply ship from Vancouver to Lunenburg and showed how the police outposts were supplied and other scenes of life in the north country.

Between the two films Sgt. Buchanan gave a short talk on safety practices in rifle shooting, driving, etc., and showed two short films on the subject of safety practices in driving and cycling.

The use of the theatre was donated by C. R. Robson.

Shower For Mote Family

The Good Deeds Women's Institute held a miscellaneous shower at the home of Mrs. Robert S. Irwin on May 1st for Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Mote and family, who lost practically all their household furnishings in the recent fire at the A. G. Spaeth farm.

The table was loaded with many useful gifts from the thirty-five ladies present and other friends. Mrs. Mote expressed her thanks to all for their kindness.

Kirkcaldy W.I.

The Kirkcaldy Women's Institute met on April 30th at the home of Mrs. Williams, with seven members and one visitor present. Roll call was answered with hints on gardening, and the raffle was won by Mrs. Clements.

Mrs. Galbraith gave an interesting talk on the subject of Jersey cows and Mrs. MacDonald spoke on "Flowers." Mrs. Clements asked all the members to help with the present Cancer Drive. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Hagerman.

Large Audiences Enjoy Plays Presented by Drama Students

High School Players Present Four One-Act Plays at Theatre Last Week

The combined Drama Class and Drama Club of the Vulcan High School presented two performances of four one-act plays at the Vulcan Theatre last Wednesday. Large audiences attended both shows. Mrs. M. L. Todd, the drama teacher, was assisted in directing the plays by Miss Ethel Hilt and Miss Linda Fleming. The high school orchestra, under the direction of John Hunter, provided intermission music.

The first play "Sunday Costs Five Pesos," was a Mexican folk play with colorful costumes and scenery of native houses. Those taking part were Miss Jean Benoit, Gordon Nault, Miss Betty Fulton, Miss Mary Hyslop and Miss Betty Hilt. Directress was Miss Ethel Hilt.

"Buddy Answers an Ad." was the second play, with parts played by Gladys Mainland, George Peck, Ralph Walker, Jean Benoit, Lenore Schierman, Donald Campbell and Lyle Dales.

The third play "Our Dream House," revolved around the problem of causing Chester Nutkins, played by Ralph Walker, to discontinue his affectionate plans towards Kathleen Jenkins, played by Jane Bowie. Other characters in the play were portrayed by Shirley Hill, Betty Hammer, Elwood Mensinger, Corinne Neville and Brian Todd. Miss Linda Fleming was the directress.

"Home by Midnight" was the last play on the program. Gordon Nault played the part of an irate father whose children, played by Charlie Fitzpatrick, Yvonne Samuels and Allan Clark, failed to get home by midnight. Corinne Neville took the part of the mother.

Assisting with publicity, ticket sales and carpentry were Doreen Weber, Mary Hyslop, Gloria Findlay, Allan Clark and J. Maisey.

In the interval between the afternoon and evening performances the players and assistants partook of a specially prepared supper at Frank's Cafe.

DAYLIGHT SAVING TIME?

Calgary, Lethbridge, High River, Claresholm, Macleod are but a few of the places which are now on daylight saving time.

Local feeling, in the town at least, seems to be in favor of fast time, particularly in view of the confusion which is bound to result now that most of our neighboring towns have advanced their clocks on an hour. Vulcan is the largest town on the Aldersyde line and it is likely that the smaller towns to the south of us are waiting to see whether or not fast time is adopted here before making a decision themselves.

Daylight saving time was in effect throughout the war and, although not generally favored by the farming population, is of benefit to those who work by the clock. That extra hour of daylight is appreciated by town dwellers.

With the above mentioned points in mind, we feel that the town council, at their meeting next Monday night, should take the necessary steps to bring daylight saving time into effect in Vulcan.

EXPORTEES

IN Dr. Charlotte Whitton's charges against the administration of Child Welfare in Alberta, she has made a strong point of exportation of Alberta babies to United States. She has asserted that an average of one baby a week had been adopted by parents across the line in the year 1946, and that over a period of years one baby out of every ten adoptees had gone to United States. In reply to Dr. Whitton an official of the department stated that 76 out of 1716 babies placed for adoption were awarded to American couples, most of whom were residing at Edmonton at time of application. It was stated that home conditions had been satisfactorily investigated. But Dr. Whitton says: "I am interested in helping the I.O.D.E. to keep Canadian children in British sovereignty and under the care of a responsible minister and department."

The thought occurs that if it is regrettable to lose the baby population of Alberta to homes across the line, it should be infinitely more serious to lose so many of our educated young adults. This out-going population which is a grave loss is made up to great extent of the young people who have been educated at considerable expense by the people of Alberta and have left this province for wider fields of opportunity. They have been fed, clothed and sheltered by their parents; have been cared for as to health; educated in our high schools, graduated from our universities. As they stand they are almost invariably proved assets, in position to be of great value to Canadian society.

This type of exportation is not Dr. Whitton's present field of investigation, but in the general picture it represents a steady loss of proved ability, quite as worthy of concern as the baby situation which is now being brought to the fore. An infant child is a potential asset, but a great amount of money must be invested in him before his value is proved. There is also the chance that he may not develop as an asset but a liability.

From the national standpoint it is desirable to keep every Canadian-born child in Canada from birth to death. But considered on a world basis does it matter so much where a man is living if he is contributing full usefulness to society. And from the continental standpoint Canada and United States are so interwoven that any movement across the line does not seem to constitute a real break with the homeland. Talents are interchangeable between the two countries.

But probably Dr. Whitton's concern is not only for the loss of Alberta population, but a desire that closer check might be kept by the Alberta department on homes to which Alberta babies may be awarded. It could not be suggested that the American families seeking to adopt babies are not quite as conscientious, wise and loving as Canadian parents might be. That is the main concern of the public—that helpless infants, subject to adoption, be given the best possible chance for a happy, useful life.

Income Tax Reductions

The long awaited announcement on income tax reductions came Tuesday evening, and first scrutiny brings indication that taxes are much reduced, especially in lower brackets. Excess profit tax will be abolished after 1947, but taxes on luxury goods such as tobacco, liquor, furs, jewelry, etc., will remain unchanged.

The cuts which become effective July 1, will bring cuts averaging 29% for 9 out of every 10 taxpayers. The 30% tax on corporation incomes remains unchanged.

The cut is as high as 54% in lower incomes and becomes 6 or 7% in higher levels. But basic exemptions remain unchanged.

In completing tax for 1947 there will be six months on present rates and 6 months on the new rates.

According to first schedules a single taxpayer making $1000, would pay $55 on present rates. The new reduction cuts him to $29 but since it doesn't become effective till July 1, his 1947 tax would be $12. This brings a 24% reduction below present rates, and will be 47% reduction on the same basis for 1948.

Or a married taxpayer with two children, on a salary of $2000 pays $69 at present rates. He will pay $36 in 1948, and for 1947 his tax levy will be $52.

Those making $10,000 will still be nicked quite heavily, but tax reductions bring greatest good to greatest numbers.

It has been accepted that heavy income taxation is hampering enterprise and effort. Removal of excess profits tax will be a great relief.

Finance Minister Abbott in outlining his first budget gave assurance that 1947 would be the last year of the 15% excess profit tax. But he warned Canadian business that it would have to keep profits and prices within reason before tax relief can come.

When full benefits are realized the Minister said Canadians would find themselves paying much less than those in Britain. In comparison with U.S. they will be paying slightly more in most brackets, but in case of married persons with families the dependents' allowance must be reckoned.

CANADA'S NEW BOOM

Failure of imports from England, Sweden and other countries and continued high prices for American products is giving stimulus to Canada's own pottery industry with a result that Canadians are enjoying a new manufacturing boom. The industry centres in the town of Medicine Hat, Alberta, where with virtually unlimited natural gas to keep operation costs down, one pottery alone turns out 454 types of china and pottery averaging $60,000 monthly in shipments to retail markets. Using 200 carloads of clay and kaolin yearly, most from Georgia and Kentucky, Medicine Hat's potteries produce 22,000 individual pieces daily, with white dinnerware its greatest demand—65 per cent. of the total output.

Shown here are some of the novelty china dinnerware, vases and other pottery items being made at Medicine Hat, Alta. The clay is first pressed in rolls from which duplicate moulds are made after a home-designed pattern. The moulds are then decorated with hand-lathes before firing.

6900 British immigrants will go to Australia this year.

Calgary went on daylight saving on Sunday, April 27.

Rich deposits of gold-bearing ore have been found north of Aklevik. This is 2000 miles north of Edmonton and may start a gold rush.

A suggested income budget allows 40% for food, 15% for clothing, 25% for rent, 10% for savings and 10% for other expenditures. The percentage under savings would have also to include income tax, which leaves savings quite negligible.

Down on The Farm

Canada's delegation to the International Federation of Agricultural Producers, which convenes May 12th at the Hague, Holland, sailed April 27th from New York. The delegation, representing the Canadian Federation of Agriculture and headed by H. H. Hannan, President who is also a vice-president of the International Federation, will be prepared to participate in the setting up of the permanent organization of the I.F.A.P. with F.A.O., the stabilization of farm prices on the international level, the proposed world food council, disposal of surpluses, etc. New applications for membership have been received from farm organizations in Hungary, Spain and Argentina will send observers. At the organization meeting of last May, held in London, England, delegates were present from 31 countries. Mr. Geo. Church U.F.A. president, is Alberta's delegate this year.

Producer representation on the national agricultural committee was recently enlarged by the appointment by the Dominion government of five new members from producers' organizations. This committee was previously composed of deputy ministers of the departments of agriculture and three representatives of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture with Mr. Hannan as chairman. The committee is to function as advisory to the federal minister of agriculture and to the new agricultural prices support board.

The new appointee for Alberta is Mr. L. E. Pharis, farmer, of Magrath, and has the support of the A.F.U., U.F.A. and A.F.A. Alberta is fortunate to have a man of the integrity and ability of Mr. Pharis as their representative.

In a recent statement of the C.F.A. farmers who use fertilizers were warned of possible increase in prices in the next few months. The government recently removed ceilings on chemicals and this may result in increases in the prices of chemicals used in making fertilizers. For the present, however, fertilizers of all kinds are still under price control.

Added costs are assured for the farmers who use binder twine in the harvesting of their crops this year by the announcement of an increase of the ceiling price of binder twine of $7.50 per hundred pounds.

A recent poll question submitted to Farm Forum Groups across Canada was as follows: "The 1946 wheat agreement between Canada and Great Britain sacrifices the opportunity of selling at higher prices now for the assurance of stabilized prices the next four years. Is this a sound principle?" Across Canada 65% of the groups answered yes. In Alberta 76% of the groups favored the agreement, the other 24% favored with reservations. In Saskatchewan 68% favored the agreement, 24% with reservations and 4% opposed. In Manitoba 94% favored the agreement, 4% with reservations and 2% opposed. It will be noted that in the western provinces, where the majority of wheat growers live, registered very strongly in favor of the agreed and its stabilization features.

More than 200,000 telephone workers have been idle in U.S.A. as a result of the strike.

Engineers predict that the Bow river will carry a very heavy flow of water in the next few months, about 118% of long term normal.

Correspondence

The Editor,

Dear Sir:

Security With Freedom

World Report, February 11, 1947
—A new Social Security system has been set up in Sweden. After January 1, 1948, every Swedish citizen, no matter what his own means may be, is to receive a minimum of $278.00 a year at the age of 67. In cities, where living costs are higher, the pension will be increased to $444.00 a year. Married couples will get $660.00 in cities, and an additional allowance for housing. About 700,000 will benefit, at an annual cost of $217,000,000.00.

Slowly, very slowly, governments are yielding to public opinion to provide economic security for their citizens without "means tests," which are humiliating and often inhumane.

However, the most important point of all has yet to be realized, and to date the Social Credit technique is the only one that will give the people the results they want. Therefore, this security must be given to all people without incurring more debt, and without taxing people who are unable to afford such taxation.

Through the control of financial policy, and the agency of the "just price" Social Credit will ensure to all the full fruits of their own labor, and in addition, their participation in the total increased production of the whole nation. This will be the best co-operative measure ever devised, because it will co-ordinate the financial power of the country with the productive power of the people. Thus the people will receive in the convenient form of money their share of the co-operative results obtained by the efforts of the whole nation. The "just price" will enable every government to protect its people from unfair high prices, and exploitation by any monopolistic combination or cartel, and permit all citizens to share in the profits created by private or co-operative industry.

Social Credit is the only method that can successfully fight against all monopolies, and ensure to the people the benefits resulting from free and unrestricted enterprise—whether private or co-operative.

Yours truly,

H. E. NICHOLS

Grasshopper and Sawfly Warnings

Forecasts, made by Dominion entomologists and provincial field crop officials, indicate that crop losses from grasshoppers and wheat stem sawflies are likely to be heavy this year in the southern and central portions of Alberta and Saskatchewan. Farmers in these areas are urged to make full use of the following officially recommended "Control Measures."

Grasshopper Control. (1) Use poison bait early before any serious outbreaks get underway. (2) Keep a close watch on field margins, roadsides, ditches, etc., for concentrations of young grasshoppers. Poison the savages! (3) Repeat baiting as needed for crop protection. (4) Use good, clean summer-fallow method. (5) Shallow cultivate all stubble (not deeper than 2 inches), particularly field margins, as early as possible this Spring. (6) Remember that early and timely baiting is exceedingly important in grasshopper control.

Wheat Stem Sawfly Control. Crop losses from sawfly damage in 1947 are likely to be heavy in central and south-western Saskatchewan and in certain districts of south-central Alberta unless the following effective control measures are exercised. (1) Use sawfly traps. Seed a strip or two of early wheat in last year's wheat stubble. Destroy these wheat strips not later than the first week of July. (2) Do not seed wheat on wheat stubble. (3) Plant resistant crops such as oats, barley and flax. (4) Delay seeding wheat as long as possible—preferably until after May 15th. (5) In no case should the main wheat crop be seeded before the wheat in the sawfly strips has appeared above ground. (6) Remember that very shallow, early spring tillage is effective in controlling both sawflies and grasshoppers.

For further information see your Agricultural Representative, or write to the Dominion Entomological Laboratory at Lethbridge, Saskatoon, or Brandon.

Items From Bob Edwards' Inimitable "Eye Opener"

Bob Edwards, editor of the High River Eye Opener from 1902 to 1904 suddenly realizes that his paper appeals too exclusively to male readers, so he seeks to win feminine approval by a few lively society notes. In his issue of Nov. 1, 1904, he really lets himself go in describing a couple of weddings, a musicale and an elegant poker party.

High River Eye Opener
November 1, 1904

It has been found so difficult to please everybody that the editor of the Eye Opener has decided to add a society column compiled by a nice refined lady of unquestionable taste. The Eye Opener hopes in this way to appeal irresistibly to the feminine world. Let the social circle whirl, while we catch a few of the classier doings.

Jewellikeen - Cattles

A pretty wedding took place at high noon Saturday when Miss

Sally Cuttes, the well known Okotoka belle, became the bride of Mr. Emanuel J. Jewellikeen who holds a responsible position behind the bar of the Hardy Ever hotel. The church was beautifully decorated with potted palms, autumn leaves and canned lobsters. Promptly at twelve o'clock the bride entered the church on the arm of her father who staggered slightly but gave her away with no ill-timer protest.

Ill Will Over Poker Party

The progressive poker party at the elegant bachelor quarters of Mr. Cyril E. Bonnington of Saratoga Avenue, High River broke up in an unfortunate row Tuesday evening owing to the penchant of one of the guests for dealing seconds and holding out. No harm resulted, but Mr. Bonnington is justly indignant at the event which put him in a wrong light. He claims he never asks for a rake-off, but he wonders who is going to replace his chairs.

Exquisite Musicales

Mrs. Ethel Tuthall Megler (you know the old harpy as well as we do) gave a charming musicale at her residence last evening. The hostess gave an exquisitely delicate performance of a Mozart Scherzo, the tempo being played with a refinement, a breadth, an elevation that left one breathless. Miss Gladys Griscum gave a superb rendition on the gramophone of Schubert's "Rosamunde," full of melody and various ideas, while Mrs. Hannah Burt Walker rendered with matchless skill the perennials with delightful vitality. She did a really beautiful allegro from Faust that on the piano. A silver collection was then taken up in aid of the piano tuner. Refreshments were served when the gramophone discs run out.

That Wedding at Hootch

The enterprising little town of Hootch, well in the van of social progress, has had an honest-to-goodness wedding. William E. Tompkins, editor of the weekly newspaper, known as the Hootch Firebrand (you tell it—we print it) got married last week to Miss Gertrude McConkey, the dining room girl at the local hotel. What Miss McConkey was thinking about to throw herself away on a man like Tompkins is a mystery to all his friends. The explanation of this ill-advised union is probably the usual one—a good line of chatter that she fell for.

The nuptials were celebrated in the dining room of the hotel, the scene of the bride's numerous triumphs as a successful, indeed incomparable, hash slinger. A large gathering was present to comment on any slip-up. As the bride was led into the presence of the mints

O.E.A. PRESIDENT

Dr. N. R. D. Sinclair, of Barrie Ont., who has been elected president of the Ontario Educational Association. He succeeds J. C. Walsh of Toronto.

ter and assembled guests, leaning heavily on the arm of the chief, the organ got going and Mr. P. Q. Quigley, the amiable assistant at Cassidy's blacksmith shop sang "Oh Perfect Love."

The bridegroom who looked very chic in a pair of pants, a recherche vest, a gothic coat and jag, appeared nervous, but managed to bungle through the responses. At one place he became confused, and answered "Sure Mike" instead of "I will." But it all sounded the same as it whistled through his mustache.

As the cortege passed out of the dining room Mr. John Hurley sang "The voice that breathed o'er Eden." It was some breath. Mr. Hurley is not only a great baritone, but also a charter member of the Blind Pig.

Later on the guests sat down to a delightful wedding breakfast provided by the genial boneface, Mr. Wilkins. A number of speeches were made all in very hazy vein, praising the bride. They hadn't much to say about Tompkins. When the noon train came along the happy couple entrained for Calgary where a suite had been engaged at Steve's Place on Ninth Avenue.

On Kicking Oneself in Teeth

(The Canadian Statesman, Bowmanville)

We could use a good cartoon showing a man kicking himself in the teeth. It would illustrate the activities of some labor people about wages—and would be equally useful in illustrating to farmers the fallacy of the view that higher wages for workmen necessarily mean expanded demand for farm-stuffs.

Evidently our big neighbour to the south is in for another round of wage demands with their accompaniment of strikes or threats of strikes, concessions, diminished production, and increased prices of manufactured goods to the consumer.

What does this situation hold for Canadians on the land or in the workshop? It may well mean lost markets and lost jobs. When pressures of that kind develop in the States, labor almost invariably follows suit in Canada. But our economy differs so vitally from that of the United States that some things they can absorb Canadians cannot. We must watch out for any increase of costs that would shut us out of world markets.

The United States is virtually self-contained—depends far less on export trade than we do. On the other hand, one dollar out of every three in Canada's national income comes from our export trade—one job in every three depends on it.

Farmers cannot forever stand rising prices in the things they have to buy. When rising wages operate to "up" the price of everything the farmer must buy, farm costs go up. If in his prices he cannot compete in the export market, Canada loses the market. The farmer, deprived of his foreign market cannot buy goods at home made by Canadian workers. The workers in turn lose their market and their jobs.

Wage-increases without increased production boost the cost of everything for everybody. We think that farmers and other workers alike need, right now, to take a good look at the simple economics in the current situation—for here, if we do not watch out for our overseas markets, lie the seeds of that "recession" or depression which agitators who may be bringing it on predict so glibly.

Farm Subsidies Make Big Total

From September 1, 1939, to January 31, 1947, a total of $351,476,126 was paid by the Dominion government as agriculture subsidies, according to a statement filed recently in the House of Commons

Science in Danish Agriculture

Lt. Col. O. M. McConkey, Engaged in Agricultural Administration in Europe, Tells of Danish Advances.

Lt. Col. O. M. McConkey, brother of J. S. and Miss McConkey of Cayley, is engaged in administrative capacity in agricultural rehabilitation in Europe. From time to time his articles on the various countries have appeared in the Farmers' Magazine.

In one issue he gives a picture of Denmark and the practical application of science to agriculture in that country.

When he first crossed the border from Germany into Denmark shortly after VE day the comment of a companion was "Even the cows look happier in this country." In later acquaintanceship in a land out in later acquaintanceship in land of democratic institutions, co-operative living and good agriculture. Later he spent a time in Denmark revisiting folk schools, agriculture schools, etc.

"The Danes," he said, "managed to maintain agricultural administration without too much disruption during the occupation. The German authorities were anxious to get as much food from Denmark as possible, so they maintained fertilizer supplies and farm labor to the greatest extent possible. They managed to keep bacon industry at about 65% of 1939, and butter industry at about 70% and since war's end have been able to export food. But full recovery depends on revival of world trade and the imports of feeding stuffs and agriculture. Cattle stand at 97%, pigs 75% and poultry 50% of 1939.

"Crop yields are declining because of fertilizer shortage. The Danish farmer takes great care of his barnyard manure, with most farms having a good cement manure pit in which solid manure is carefully packed. There are cement cisterns for liquid manure and barnyard manure contributes two-thirds the fertilizer requirements. But it will be several years before soil fertility levels can be restored, and this is true of most of the war zone.

Normally Denmark gets coal from Britain and the Ruhr, but shortages from these sources have turned the Danes to peat production and there is great activity in peat bogs.

"Rubber is in short supply and many bicycles are being run on metal rims, a discomfort in the land of the bicycle.

Keeping Up Farming

"Despite lack of oil, gas and transportation Danish farmers are keeping up with latest agricultural developments. Twenty-five per cent of dairy cows are being artificially inseminated from proven sire. Progeny tested stations have been started for heifers, similar to pig testing stations in Canada.

"In livestock shows prizes are not awarded on appearance and conformation alone. The primary object is awards to best utility animals. Main factors are (1) pedigree; (2) production records; (3) conformation and they emphasize "get of sire" classes. Today the average annual production of dairy cows in Denmark is 7600 lbs. of 3.7% milk.

"Denmark is a good country for Canadians to visit and to live in for some time to study methods of rural education, co-operation, marketing and social legislation. Denmark will offer every facility and co-operate with our students. The Danes are very friendly toward Canadians.

"Danish farmers are an example to the world in efficiency of rural education, co-operation, breeding, feeding, etc. Those who are interested will get excellent practical material through the following books: "Folk schools of Denmark" by L. B. Manniche (Oxford University Press); "Denmark a Social Laboratory" by Manniche, (Oxford University Press); "Denmark Agriculture," published by the Danish Agricultural Council, Denmark.

Britain plans to order no more big U.S.-built airlines for Empire routes. It plans to make its own, and in 1951 hopes to take the lead in plane designing.

by the Hon. James G. Gardiner, Dominion Minister of Agriculture.

The largest item in the total was $84,104,622 paid for butterfat used for creamery butter.

Next was $79,821,521 for freight assistance on Western feed grains, millfeeds and screenings shipped to farmers in Eastern Canada British Columbia for feeding livestock.

This was $44,451,049 on milk for fluid consumption. Payments for the premiums on hogs, which started first at $3 for hogs grading A1 and $2 for those grading B1, then later dropped to $2 and $1 respectively, amounted to $31,242,944.

The town of Newburyport, Massachusetts, has introduced its own price-cutting, when retailers marked down prices 10%. It has been so successful that it is being continued. Other American centres have also adopted the move.

Search is Underway for E. B. Bottles

E. B. Bottles, believed hiding in attics, basements and garages became subject to intensive search by Vulcan citizens.

Commonly known by the full name of Empty Beer Bottles, this culprit is responsible for the present shortage of bottled brewery products, and consequently a reward of 20 cents per dozen is being offered for successful apprehension.

Housewives are taking the lead in this search for E. B. Bottles, realizing that recovery will serve a three-fold purpose. It will help consumers to get more of their favorite beverages; it will provide more space in cupboards, pantries, basements and garages, and it will put badly needed bottles back on the job and enable bottlers to continue full operation.

All citizens are urged to be on the lookout for the fugitive. His favorite haunting places around the home should be thoroughly searched, and in the event of apprehension, Deliveries Limited, Agents for Alberta Brewing Industry, should be notified.

CASH REWARD WAITING

Arrangements have been made in the cities for taking "Bottles" into custody at the place he is discovered, and escorted to depot. Cash Reward will be paid at scene of arrest amounting to 20 cents per dozen. Freight agents are co-operating and all rural vigilantes need to do is turn "Bottles" over to one of these agents and he will be escorted collect to nearest Deliveries Limited Depot at Camrose, Calgary, Drumheller, Medicine Hat, Lethbridge or McLennan.

WHAT ABOUT IT?

It is a very cruel and heartless thing to SEND children to Sunday School. The church with all of its work has but one primary purpose in the world, and that purpose is the same as that of our Lord. He expressed it in the words: "I came to seek and to save the lost." The church is not in the world to teach men a good way of life nor to civilize men as a primary purpose. It is here to teach men the way of God. If you are going to church for any other purpose, you had just as well not go. If you are sending your children for just the teaching of good living, you are missing the mark. Though God has overlooked the times of ignorance and demands that all men repent, yet he does require more of a person who knows the scriptures than he does of one who does not. If your children are trained in the Christian teaching, God will require of them according to that teaching. Those of you who send your children are having them taught information which God will require of them, and by your own absence from the assembly of Christians you teach them to violate that which they are being taught. The end of such violation is rejection of God of the person who violates that which he knows to be right. It is a tragic thing to place them under the teaching of God, and then by your own life tell them that that which they learn is not important and thus lead them to destruction. It is causing them to stumble to their death, and of those who cause stumbling the Lord has said "It is better that a millstone be hanged about their neck and that they be cast into the sea." Don't think that you will be held guiltless. It is spiritual murder. Some think it is terrible to kill a child, but it is more terrible to be responsible for the eternal death of one's own child. On the other hand it is commendable to save a child from death, but it is even more commendable to save them from eternal death. Let's be sensible and start BRINGING the children to Sunday School and Church and train them in the way of the Lord, which is the way of eternal life.

Pertinent Topics

Discussed by H.C.

It was political exigencies at home which impelled Bevin and Marshall to say on leaving Moscow that the conference was not a total failure. Bevin had to make that pretence to appease the left-minded element of the Labor party and General Marshall had to show some regard to the views of his chief who hesitates to censure Wallace lest he lead the leftists out of the Democratic party. The French Minister Bidault has even greater cause to avoid vexing the powerful Communist party in his country, although he personally shows a list toward the western powers.

The time consumed in these conferences tried the patience of Bevin, Marshall and Bidault who look upon it as wasted. Not so the Russian delegates. They are given to disputation and time is not a factor. Never before have they had such a chance to display their wares to the world. They know they have an audience now and that in every country in the world they are reaching not only their own Communist servants, but also a vast number of pro-Soviet people of more value to them than their paid agents.

If the conferences go on indefinitely so much the better for them. It is all up their alley. They don't want solutions—they want only to pose problems and keep discussions going. They don't want settlement—they prefer unsettledness. They don't want clarity—they prefer confusion. Only by remembering that their ultimate goal is world revolution will the public realize that Soviet conduct is strictly logical and purposeful. They are succeeding. Our delegates are not, nor can they, so long as they ask Soviet delegates to seek harmony when discord suits them better.

Russia's demand for such large reparation payments from conquered countries is based upon the facts that Russians sundered most because of their own perfidy. Their alliance with Hitler, and Communist underground activities in France made Hitler's conquest of France a pushover, and seriously weakened British resistance. When Hitler attacked Russia, France was impotent, and Britain too weak to relieve the pressure on the new eastern front.

The lack of a peace treaty with Germany is going to put that unhappy country in a quandary. If there is no peace treaty with regular terms and conditions, how are Germans to know how to violate or circumvent them? How are they going to persuade soft-hearted, soft-headed people, twenty years hence, that they are the victims of harsh and cruel peace terms by vindictive conquerors if the Allies fail now to write any treaty at all?

Russia insists that war gains shall be assessed even against Austria which was assaulted by Germany when that country was in league with Russia. One Austrian chancellor was slain and his successor imprisoned by Nazis. Austria was saved once by Mussolini but had to succumb when Italy joined the axis. Of course, there were Austrians who were Nazis, but were there not Russians too, including Stalin and Molotov, who at that time furthered the designs of Hitler even against themselves? Every country that succumbed to Hitler then has a valid claim against Russia and Russia has no valid claim except against Germany.

It is surmised that Russia's dilly-dallying tactics are born of a conviction that another depression is in the offing that will shake American ability and willingness to go on with the current program abroad, but that is only subsidiary to the settled policy of the Politburo to stir up strife abroad rather than adjust differences amicably. If depression hits the U.S. it will ease Russia's progress in sovietizing the zones of Germany and Austria which she now occupies.

The Canadian Communist leader, Tim Buck declares this country is being dragged into war against Russia at the behest of big business. When will big business men learn that war doesn't pay? On two occasions within the memory of an adult they lost heavily and were put to all sorts of inconvenience by wars which they were accused of starting. Now they are accused by the same class of people or trying to start another war before they have recovered from the strains and stresses of the last one. What senseless, silly asses they are and what gluttons for punishment!

The Quebec Legislature voted unanimously in favor of designating His Majesty George VI King of Canada, and the Ministers of Justice lost no time in committing the government at Ottawa toward the change. They do not like the word "dominion," saying its savors of colonization and the change suggested make Canada a kingdom. They want the King but not the United Kingdom or the British Empire connection. They fight like blazes sometimes among themselves but on such a question as this they become as one.

Flax Suggestions

Flax growers are advised by Field Crops Commissioner A. M. Wilson, to treat their seed with Cereasan or other mercurial dust before sowing. Many chipped seeds, or seeds with cracked seed coverings, if planted in cool, damp soil, may fail to germinate or may produce stunted seedlings. Severe treatment prevents deterioration of these seeds after planting and sowing.

In preparing land for planting flax, selection should be made of fields relatively free from weeds. In early stages of growth, flax provides little cover to the soil surface and early growing weeds may smother the crop. Summer fallow will be most suitable, as weeds were destroyed during the previous cultivation season.

☼ Tomorrow — "Mother's Day," the nation pauses to pay honor, richly deserved, to the Mothers of the nation who, true to tradition, have given the world the greatest inspiration it has ever known.

☼ No word in any language commands more respect and deserves more honour than that of "Mother." No Sterling compares with the silver of a Mother's hair— no lines can compare in beauty with those furrowed in the face of a Mother.
